ENERGY FIELDS

RKS Muthukrishnan is widely known in India and Southeast Asia as a consulting anthrobiometricist. Anthrobiometry is an ancient practice of using the universal energy grid that is represented in certain existing cosmic symbols, to measure the energy fields of human beings. He has over the decades developed the ability through a combination of intuition and experimentation to transform this knowledge of the energy field of each individual human being into a colour vibration that harmonizes with the universal energy system and this is depicted in his unique cosmic drawings. Using the Sri Chakra tantric cosmic symbol which represents the harmonic energy patterns of the universe, RKS Muthukrishnan has the ability to harmonize potentially disruptive energy fields of human beings with the universal system.

He thus uses human beings with their energy fields as paintbrushes to create vibrant colourful paintings of a cosmic design, thus transforming these paintings into beneficial powerhouses of energy for any particular individual.

When the paintings are not tailored to the requirements of a particular individual, they can simply be used as a depiction of the harmony of the universe and have the power to harmonize the energy field of the surroundings in which they are hung.
